LEIGH CREEK TO COPLEY WALKING / CYCLING TRAIL

The first stage of the Leigh Creek to Copley walking trail has been completed just in time for the school holiday visitors. The next stage once funding is secured will be to look at interpretive signage working once again with the Adnyamathanha Elders, Mobile Language Team and the school, using the fantastic Akurra Trail format as a guide. Progress are also keen to name this new trail so hope to hold a competition, working with the school to come up with both a name and design along the lines of the Kingfisher and Akurra Trail logo.

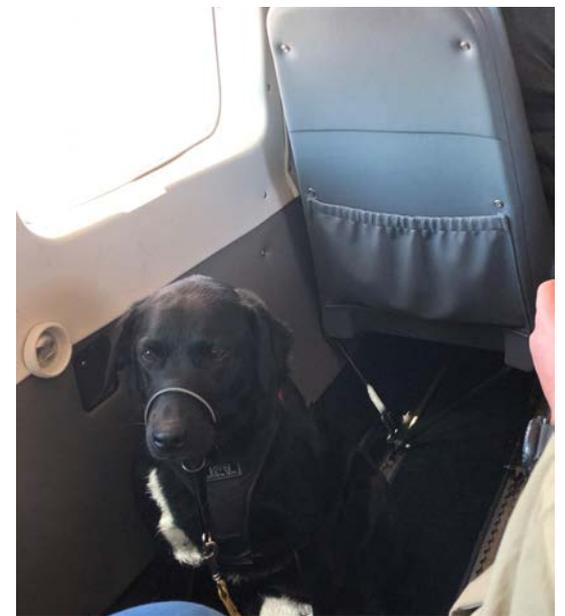

The LCCPA are working collaboratively with 3 other towns within the OCA Areas who have also been successful in securing funding for a Pump Track. This is part of the overall concept to encourage more active participation like cycling and walking in our region for both locals and visitors. Plans are for the Pump Track to be installed on the current Netball court site. Progress has started the project works in exploring a suitable design for the space and partnership opportunities with other agencies such as Complete Personnel.

OUTBACK FUTURES

The next phase of Outback Futures, following the strategic planning workshop at Coober Pedy in September, are a series of meetings being hosted by Progress Associations across the Outback from October 16 to November 1.

OCA staff and Board members will be present at each meeting to present information, engage in discussion, answer questions and gather your feedback. We'll have a draft 'blue print' for SA's Outback, information about services that we've heard Outback communities want, and a breakdown of approximate service costs along with some ideas about how to fund them.

While Progress Associations are hosting these meetings they are open to everyone. You do not need to be a member of a particular Progress Association to attend. And depending on your travel and activities over the period of consultation you might find it more convenient to attend a meeting that is not in your usual 'home' community. That's all fine. Similarly, if your closest Progress Association is not hosting a meeting, please consider the next closest. Just turn up! You'll be very welcome. For more information and the dates of other community consultations search

:https://oca.sa.gov.au/OutbackFuturesProject

There will be two online meeting options for people who would like to participate in this consultation but are unable to be present in person. It is essential that anyone who wishes to take up that option email ahead of time (by Thursday October 28) at margaret.howard@sa.gov.au nominating which of the two timeslots are preferred so that a request to join the online meeting can be sent.

Come and hear the outcomes of the strategic planning workshop and provide your feedback on ideas that emerged.

Community Consultation

These meetings will provide an opportunity for Outback people to hear the outcomes of the Coober Pedy strategic planning workshop and provide their feedback on the ideas that have emerged - including a draft 'blueprint' for South Australia's Outback, as well as potential financial models for the Outback Communities Authority going forward.

Tuesday 19th
October
At Playford Room
Leigh Creek
11am-1pm

For anyone who would like to participate but is unable to do so in person, online meetings will be offered on Tuesday 2 November, 6pm - 7.30pm and Wednesday 3 November, 9.30am - 11am. If you would like to attend one of these please email margaret.howard@sa.gov.au by Thursday 28 October nominating your preferred timeslot. A meeting request will be sent to you.

FUNLHN intends to engage in community consultations in accordance with FUNLHN Consumer and Community Engagement Strategic Framework 2020-2023 and the Aboriginal Community & Consumer Engagement Strategy.

Registered SA Health Aboriginal Expert by Experience (EbyE) with the expressed area of expertise/knowledge will be contacted by FUNLHN Aboriginal Health Unit. A Project Officer will invite EbyE to submit an Expression of Interest to work with the Project Team.
